Presents an

Enneagram Training

“Values in Action: Understanding People in Mediation”

This “hands-on” two day training will help mediators gain an understanding of nine different value systems and character structures, including the strengths and potential liabilities of each. The workshop will provide a practical system for self-understanding and for understanding how you are impacts others in the mediation environment. In addition, mediators will gain tools to understand the value systems of people and how that affects their negotiating styles, how communication styles impact those in mediation, and how to most effectively manage conflict.
